Wolves Prepare for Exciting Future

The 2007-2008 season began before all of the team was in their locker room after losing the semi-final game of the NSIC Tournament. The returning leaders met with the coaches and came up with the following ideas to prepare for this year.

Wolves Basketball Areas to Improve
Commitment to The Team , Strength and Toughness, Rebounding, Post Presence, Defensive Conscience, Lay-ups and Free Throws, Poise, Closing and Finishing, Consistency in Every Area

To be the best you can be and compete on a national level at a high rate of play, you must work each day to improve your mind, your body, your game and your team. " The journey is better than the innr"Cervantes. Our success as a team is a by-product of how we go about our work to daily build the individual effort and collective pride of being part of the Northern State Wolves Basketball Program. The efforts of our parents to monitor and encourage their sons to daily improve as people and players is crucial to the success of our team. We always point with pride to our Wolves Parents as they are the foundation of the Wolves Family.
